

Aye, Vivian! kneel by his side, chafe the little jeweled hands, put back the soft hair from the aureo veined temples, press the pulseless wrist, listen to the beating heart—in vain—Kiss—dead!

And in the arms of him for whom she had thrown away her young life, she was borne to her home. The diamond sparkled merrily on the clay cold fingers, the pearls still lingering amid her soft ringlets, the round, symmetrical limbs still fair in their proportions. The heart she loved was gained—the dear bought victory won.

City Elections.

Quite a commendable degree of patriotism seems to be manifesting itself in the aspirants for office under our now amended city charter. We have some right to boast of the distinguished spirit of our citizens, as all appear ready to sacrifice themselves for the good of the public, every office, we believe, from City Clerk to Master of the Chain-gang having candidates. There being no difficulty in finding gentlemen who will consent to serve, the important question presents itself to the voters: "who are qualified to serve?" There are various offices to be filled, and many of them important ones. The most important one, in our judgment, for the city, and the one in which we are most intimately concerned, is that of City Sergeant. In the rapid advancement of our city, crime and disorder have kept pace with our progress, and it has become imperative necessary that we re-organize, and conduct in future on the most active and stringent principles. If the execution of this organization is hereafter to be entrusted to the Sergeant, our citizens will at once perceive the importance of making a judicious selection at the coming election, and no man should receive our support for this important office, constituting as it does the pillar on which must rest the peace and good order of our city, who does not possess the requisites for the duties imposed upon him by his office. As much to be regretted that Police officers, dependent upon the people for their election, have in many of the Eastern cities proven themselves wholly incompetent, and whether from fear or favor, neglected the duties of their office. There can be no question but that the next election "will be too often before the minds of the people, but they will but look lightly at the matter, good must result from this rather than evil. Let the officer but ask himself whether the people will prefer an officer who does his duty and his whole duty without looking to the right or the left, to one who shifts his sails to suit what may come to be the popular course, and if he has a proper appreciation of the integrity and purity of the constituent, he will have no difficulty in determining his course. Let us then in the coming election look for the competent candidates, men of character and integrity, who will do their duty, come what will, who will look to nothing but their duty, and we will escape the opprobrium so justly cast upon some recent police elections, and protect ourselves and the interests of the city. The same may be said of every office. Let competent men be selected and we will see the effect of it hereafter. If on the contrary we neglect these considerations and vote for private considerations merely, we may ere a year have elapsed, witness the enactment of those scenes, so recently held in Baltimore and other cities. This is our first election, let us commence right if we would continue so. "Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined," and if we bent in this election with a due regard to the interests involved, not only will we see the good effects during the first year, but the example will continue its influence and it will be for the interests in the continuing good order and proper administration of our city concerns.

The Wheeling Bridge Case.

We find the following significant paragraph in the Baltimore Clipper of Friday. We fear it will disturb the dreams of our brothers of the press about Wheeling.

"The Wheeling Bridge Case.—Mr. Justice McLean has gone over on business connected with the Wheeling Bridge case, an appeal having been taken to the U. S. Court against the recent act of Congress establishing the bridge as a post route."

"Pittsburgh Commercial Journal."

We can assure the Journal that this intelligence does not even disturb our dreams, though the Bridge case is one over which our people do not dream. As a second Congress is to be elected, we are not to dream about it, and we leave to our neighbors the indignities, and we doubt not he will find the above extracts fit food for dreams, and the information it contains: "The stuffs dreams are made of."

It would appear, however, from the above announcement, that Justice McLean has commenced a practice as an Attorney; else he would have gone East to hold a session of the Supreme Court, rather than busying himself connected with the Wheeling Bridge case.

House—LOUISVILLE, Dec. 18. There was considerable activity among the packing houses yesterday, and upwards of 9,000 hogs were slaughtered. At 10 o'clock, Atkinson & Co's, 1,850 were killed. The receipts of hogs by the Jeffersonian hotel yesterday, were 2,712. The total receipts of all sources this season, are upwards of 190,000 head. Prices are very firm, and somewhat unsettled.

The total receipts of hogs at Cincinnati up to last night, were 225,000, with sales at 61 to 7 cents net, the highest prices yet paid in any quarter of the West. See News and Notes.

The St. Louis News estimates that there will be an increase of 60,000 at the various packing points on the Illinois river this season. Prices range from 61 to 6 cents.

PALESTINE ACCIDENT.—As the evening train of Thursday from Philadelphia to N. York, was approaching New York, a train was discovered in the act of crossing the track. The engine immediately reversed the engine, but before the locomotive could be checked, it struck the wagon, containing Mr. Durell and a lady. The wagon was smashed to pieces, and Mr. Durell killed. The lady was very seriously and it is feared fatally injured. Mr. Durell was a highly respectable farmer, about 75 years of age, living in the neighborhood of New York.

A Murder.—The Parkersburg Gazette of Saturday says:—Barnes, a fugitive, was arrested and placed in jail on Friday evening of last week on the charge of having killed the son of Thomas Deyarvon on Walker's Creek, and shooting a child of Mr. D's. The child has since died. The accused will have a trial before an Examining Court on Monday next.

IF A fire occurred, on Monday last, at Danville, Va., which destroyed nearly all the business property of the town, with the exception of one small dwelling at the North East corner, the entire North side of the Public Square was swept away. There was no insurance.

VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE. Thursday, Dec. 16, 1852. A communication from the House of Delegates was received.

Mr. Shackelford, from the Committee of General Laws, reported bills to amend the 15th section of the 34th chapter of the Code of Virginia, concerning the owners of dogs, and masters and hirers of negroes who permit them to keep dogs; and to amend the 4th section of the same code, relating to the punishment of the counties, the act providing for the disqualification of the commissioners, and giving to the County Courts the power of re-arranging said districts, and changing the places for holding elections. The Committee recommended that it be passed.

Mr. Saunders moved that the petition of citizens of York county be recommitted. It was so ordered.

MR. SHEPARD presented the memorial of J. S. Duckwall and others, praying the incorporation of the Morgan Academy.

THE CALENDAR. Bills on the calendar were advanced a stage.

LYNCHBURG AND GORDONVILLE CONNECTION. Mr. Daniel called up the bill authorizing the Orange and Northern Railroad Company, to connect Lynchburg and Gordonville.

A long debate ensued on this bill between Messrs. Daniel, Denale, Shackelford, Withers, Mann, Campbell, Watson, and Thomas. The vote was: Ayes 22—Noes 20.

Mr. Mason moved that the bill lie on the table. The motion was agreed to.

This proposition elicited considerable debate. Mr. Thomas contended the ayes and noes, and the vote was Ayes 22—Noes 20.

THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Mr. Sweeney called up the bill in relation to the mechanics for work done on buildings in the City of Richmond.

Mr. Thomas withdrew the substitute he had proposed for the bill.

Mr. Sweeney then proposed a substitute, which confines the operations of the bill to the county of the City of Richmond.

Mr. Martin offered a resolution of enquiry in relation to a re-assessment of the lands of the Commonwealth, which was on his motion, laid on the table.

On motion of Mr. Watson, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Thursday, Dec. 16, 1852. Prayer by the Rev. Peter De Forest, of the Methodist Church.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES. Mr. Lewis, from the Committee on Roads and Internal Navigation, reported a bill to amend the act to incorporate the Powell's Port Turnpike Company, and a bill to amend an act incorporating the Cross Roads and Summit Turnpike Company.

The House was principally occupied with the consideration of the bill to amend the act to incorporate the Cross Roads and Summit Turnpike Company.

On motion, the House adjourned.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES. Friday, Dec. 17, 1852. Prayer by the Rev. J. B. Jeter, of the Baptist Church.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the Governor relative to the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of John A. Hunter, a citizen of Virginia, had been deprived of his slaves, which, on motion of Mr. Rice, was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

The Speaker also laid before the House a communication from the State Treasurer, stating the inability of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal Company to pay the interest due by said company, for which the House passed a resolution, asking the Governor to call on the company to pay the said amount, which, on motion of Mr. Goode, of M., was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Lewis from the committee of Roads, &c., reported with amendment a bill to authorize a loan to the James River and Kanawha Company. Mr. L. presented a substitute intended to be submitted by him for said bill, and then on his motion, the bill was laid on the table.

The Report of the Committee of Privileges and Elections, upon the case of G. R. C. Price, Esq., which was under consideration yesterday, was taken up, and on motion of Mr. Patrick, again laid on the table.

An engrossed bill to increase the capital stock of the South Side Railroad, and to change its name, was taken up, as the order of the day, and Mr. Patrick addressed the House for some time, in its favor. When he concluded.

On motion of Mr. BURDETT, the House adjourned.

Female Intemperance in England. We outtake the following from the British Friend, a monthly Journal, published in Glasgow, devoted to the interests of the Society of Friends.—The statistics disclose a remarkable and appalling proportion of females among the frequenters of the tippling shops of that city.

The aggregate comparative number of 10 individuals given below is Females, 1,080; Males, 625; Youths, 240.

On Saturday evening, July 12, 1851, there entered into a spirit shop in Prince's street, between the hours of ten and twelve, one hundred and twenty three males, three hundred and sixty-five females, and forty-nine youths.

On Saturday evening, August 2, 1851, there entered into a spirit shop in King's street, between the hours of ten and twelve, one hundred and ninety-six males, one hundred and five females, and one hundred and seventeen youths.

On Saturday evening, August 23, between the same hours, there entered into one in Stirling street, one hundred and sixteen males, one hundred and forty-nine females, and one hundred and thirty youths.
